

3016 Home Street
Wantagh, New York 11793

Phone/Fax 516-826-2220
nicholasnphd@gmail.com

Nicholas Naccari, Ph.D.

---

Background Summary

Experience as a school, consulting and clinical psychologist including teaching, presentation and supervisory roles

Licensing                      New York Psychologist License and School Psychologist Certification

Education                      1975                      Hofstra University                      Hempstead, NY

Ph.D. in School-Community Psychology

- APA Approved

1981                      The Center for Family Learning                      New Rochelle, NY

Post Doctoral Training Program in Family Systems Therapy

Professional                      1976 — Present                      Private Practice                      Wantagh, NY

experience

Clinical and Consulting Psychologist

- Clinical practice conducting individual and family psychotherapy with older children through adults in later life
- Psychological assessments with older children and adolescents
- Consulting psychologist to senior management of a major airline principally in the areas of personnel assessment and performance

1973- 2001      South Huntington Schools      Huntington Station, NY

School Psychologist

- Elementary through high school level experiences
- Performed complete psychological evaluations with written reports
- In-service training and workshops for staff and parents
- Committee for Special Education Chairperson
- District-wide training coordinator and supervisor of psychology interns

2001-present      The Gateway School                      New York, NY

School Psychologist (part-time)

- Consultation with staff, parents, and related agencies and professionals
- Individual and group counseling with students

- Admissions assessments and outplacement coordination
- Coordination and Supervision of Psychological Services

2004-present Yeshiva University

Adjunct Assistant Professor – Graduate Programs in School Psychology

- Courses taught: Cognitive Assessment, Psychoeducational Assessment

1983— 1988 College of New Rochelle New Rochelle, NY

Adjunct Associate Professor – Graduate Program in Child Psychology

- Courses taught: Family Therapy and Interviewing and Counseling

1976- 1983 Hofstra University Hempstead, NY

Adjunct Assistant Professor in Psychology Department

- Undergraduate and Graduate Department of Psychology Courses taught: Introductory Psychology, Abnormal Psychology, Child and Adolescent Psychology, Personality Theories

Additional Professional Activities

- 1995 – 2002 Conference and Program Chair for the Nassau County Psychological Association – develop themes for conference programs, select and consult with program faculty and coordinate program logistics
- 1994 -1997 Radio Talk Show Co-host — co-hosted weekly radio talk show entitled “The Psychology of Sports”

Publications and Sample Invited Presentations

Horai, Joann, Naccari, Nicholas, and Fatoullah, Elliot. The effects of physical attractiveness on opinion agreement and expertise. Sociometry, 1974 37 601-606

Naccari, Nicholas. Applying Family Systems Theory in the Practice of Psychology in the Schools. Paper presented at the American Psychological Association Convention, August 1986.

Lustberg, Richard and Naccari, Nicholas. A model using the WISC-R to predict success in programs for gifted students. Psychology in the Schools, 27, April 1990, 126-131.

Naccari, Nicholas and Klungness, Leah. Solution Oriented Approaches for the School Psychologist. Paper presented at the National Association of School Psychologists, May 1992.

Naccari, Nicholas. Implementing Family Systems: Interviewing Strategies for School Psychology. Workshop presented at the American Psychological Association Convention, August 1995

Naccari, Nicholas. What Positive Psychology Brings To Enhancing Emotional Intelligence. Workshop presented for the Professional Workshop Series at Gateway School, March 2004

