

IBC Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend classes on a consistent basis. Students are subject to disciplinary and academic penalties for excessive absences or poor performance, including academic probation and pre-probation restrictions.

First year students who would like to switch courses must receive permission from either Rabbi Rapp or Rabbi Kalinsky, associate dean and assistant deans of the program.